

Nina Wallace Jasmann

July 1, 1885 – August 1975

Graveside rites were conducted Monday, August 18, at the United Church of Christ Cemetery, Monticello, for Mrs. Nina Wallace Jasmann, 90, of California. Mrs. Jasmann is a former Monticello resident, a native of Exeter Township. She left the area in 1905 when she moved to Iowa, then later moved to California.

She survived by two daughters, Miss Faye Jasmann, San Rafael, Calif.: and Mrs. O. F. Thomas, Santa Rosa, Calif.

Voegeli Funeral Service was in charge of the arrangements.

NOTE: Dr. Robert Jasmann, D.D.S., was married November 26, 1908, to Miss Nina Wallace, a native of Monticello, Wisconsin, and a daughter of William and Elizabeth (Moore) Wallace. Mrs. Jasmann attended the South Dakota University at Vermillion, and subsequently engaged in teaching school there.

Her daughter Faye Cyril Jasmann, 1910 – 1997, is buried beside her mother in the old Monticello cemetery.

William and Elizabeth (Moore) Wallace are buried in Monticello's old cemetery, often called the Zwingli cemetery.
