Badger Pioneer Gone

Ralsey Knight Passes Away at His Home in Monticello

Monticello, Wis. Aug. 23.—[Special.] Ralsey Knight, one of the oldest settlers and pioneer of Green county, died at his home in this village after a long illness of general breaking down and old age. He had resided here for the past forty-three years, during which time he has held many offices of trust, notably that of justice of the peace. He was a native of Pike, Allegheny county, N. Y., and reached the age of 82 years.
