

Nancy Wallace
March 14, 1827 - April 11, 1906
FUNERAL OF MRS. WALLACE.

The funeral of the later Mrs. Andrew Wallace was held on Friday afternoon from the Presbyterian Church and was largely attended. Mrs. Wallace has been a most devoted member of the Presbyterian Church since childhood and before coming to Le Mars both she and her husband occupied a prominent place in the church and church work at their old home at Monticello, Wis., having united with the church in 1854.

She was born of Scotch ancestry in Ireland on March 14, 1827, her maiden name being Nancy Lynn. She came to New York City on March 25, 1847. She was united in marriage with Alexander Wallace at Brineers Bridge, N. Y., on August 28, 1849, and then they resided in that state until 1852, when together they came west to seek their fortune, almost sixty years ago, locating at Monticello, Wis. They were among the early pioneers in that part of the state and they resided there until four years ago when they came to Le Mars to make their home near their daughters.

She was most strongly imbued with those qualities so necessary to the pioneer, courage and kindness to withstand the manifold privations and hardships which beset the early home makers, and her whole pathway was illuminated with kindly deeds to those who were in sickness or distress and no call of the needy was laid aside until she had given such comfort and aid that was possible for her to give.

Deceased was the mother of seven children, five daughters and two sons, three daughters having preceded her to the grave; the daughters being Mrs. Mary Evans, Mrs. E. N. Cadwell and Mrs. Martha Barlow. The aged husband, two sons and two daughters survive her. The sons are Robert Wallace, of Veedam, Wis., and J. D. Wallace, of Monroe, Wis. The daughters are Mrs. W. T. Kistle and Mrs. E. E. Eastman, of Le Mars.

J. D. Wallace came here to attend the funeral.

NOTE: Interred in Memorial cemetery, Le Mars, Iowa. Le Mars Sentinel April 17, 1906