Became Ill Sunday

Mrs. Hefty's sudden and unexpected death came as a sad blow to both relatives and friends, few of whom were aware of the seriousness of her illness, having been taken ill on Sunday, only a few days before her untimely passing. Still an unusually active woman, Mrs. Hefty was taken ill with pneumonia and failed to respond to medical treatment. Although her many friends had known that she was ill none of them were aware that she would so quickly come to the end of her march down life's pathway. On Tuesday medical authorities removed Mrs. Hefty to the hospital, where, it was thought, she would quickly recover through hospital care. In her weakened condition, however, medical treatment failed to bring the hoped for response.
